

Which brings us -- and what could be more fitting on Good Friday? -- to the problem of sin.

There are people in this world who believe that homosexual conduct is a sin (<http://www.schborromeo.org/ccc/para/2357.htm>) -- an offense against God's design of the body and the purposes he ordained for sex.

You are free to doubt their theological premise. You are free to argue with them about it. You are free to criticize or even lampoon them. You are free to offer alternatives and attempt to persuade the public to see things your way rather than theirs.

You are not, however, free to compel them to act in ways that violate their consciences. The Indiana law spells that out. Like the federal RFRA, it puts statutory meat on the First Amendment bones.

Meanwhile, there are people in this world who believe that any person or institution that declines to celebrate homosexual conduct is a sinner -- not against God, necessarily, but against the righteous political agenda. They see in Indiana's law permission for businesses to discriminate against homosexuals. And, yes, that could happen.

But it's unlikely to happen, and if it happened the free market would be quick and eager to remedy it.

What stigma remains attached to the practice of homosexuality is nothing like it used to be. None of it is government-sponsored, not even in newly RFRA-covered states, so put away the Jim Crow references (<http://www.britannica.com/EBchecked/topic/303897/Jim-Crow-law>). It would be hard to think of a less apt historical analogy.

Businesses are, in general, happy to serve gay people with money to spend. No one's going to starve, go unsheltered or get kicked off the roller coaster based on sexual orientation alone.

Certain kinds of conduct might compel a business owner to declare a gay person unwelcome, but the same can be said of any patron of any sexual orientation who behaves in ways that make business harder to do. It's the behavior that's the problem; the root cause doesn't matter.

In the vast majority of cases, a business owner or employee isn't going to know or care that a customer is gay. But let's say that information somehow comes to light and a business decision has to be made.

There is a huge difference between freely choosing to serve a customer based on one's own good will and being forced to serve unwillingly, based on the morally empty whim of the government or in the face of a pressure group's morally inflammatory demand that a business owner betray his conscience.

Reverse the roles: Should a gay baker be forced to make the cake for the big anniversary celebration over at the Westboro Baptist Church (<http://www.godhatesfags.com/?COLLCC=1792277921&>)? (They're the "God hates fags" people, in case you've forgotten.)

Of course not. The baker's conscience would be deeply and justly offended if he were made to participate in a celebration of what that church teaches.

Should a devout Muslim caterer have to make the tabouli for a gay wedding? (Heads all over the left are exploding as they envision such a collision of Groups That Must Never Be Offended.)

Should a Jewish videographer have to spend all night immortalizing events at the annual KKK ball?

No. All have a right not to cooperate with what they consider evil. All the Indiana law says is that the state government, absent some compelling interest, won't try to make them.

Some of the screaming and hollering about Indiana's law is bound up in ignorance of what little it actually does. A lot of it, though, is bound up in the LGBTetc. lobby's

(http://ads.cleveland.com/RealMedia/ads/click\_ix.ads/www.cleveland.com/)

(http://ads.cleveland.com/RealMedia/ads/click\_ix.ads/www.cleveland.com/)

(http://ads.cleveland.com/RealMedia/ads/click\_ix.ads/www.cleveland.com/)

(http://ads.cleveland.com/RealMedia/ads/click\_ix.ads/www.cleveland.com/)

(http://ads.cleveland.com/RealMedia/ads/click\_ix.ads/www.cleveland.com/)

knowledge that many of its gains come through intimidation -- a tactic that laws like Indiana's renders less effective.

Indiana's new law protects the moral sensibilities of people who are swimming against the prevailing social and political currents -- something for which we Americans are renowned.

Good job, Indiana. Don't change a thing.

O'Brien is The Plain Dealer's deputy editorial page editor.

[http://ads.cleveland.com/RealMedia/ads/click\_ix.ads/www.cleveland.com/obrien/2015/04/indianas\_rfra law protects lib.htm](http://ads.cleveland.com/RealMedia/ads/click_ix.ads/www.cleveland.com/obrien/2015/04/indianas_rfra law protects lib.htm)

Tweet 7 Share 62 Share 0 Reddit

[http://www.facebook.com/sharer.php?u=http%3A%2F%2Fwww.cleveland.com%2Fobrien%2Findex.ssf%2F2015%2F04%2Findianas\_rfra law protects lib.html](http://www.facebook.com/sharer.php?u=http%3A%2F%2Fwww.cleveland.com%2Fobrien%2Findex.ssf%2F2015%2F04%2Findianas_rfra law protects lib.html)
[http://twitter.com/share?url=http%3A%2F%2Fwww.cleveland.com%2Fobrien%2Findex.ssf%2F2015%2F04%2Findianas\_rfra law protects lib.html&text=\(mailto:?\)subject=Indiana%27s%20RFRA%20law%20protects%20liberty%20across%20a%20vast%20array%20of%20moral%20beliefs%3A%20](http://twitter.com/share?url=http%3A%2F%2Fwww.cleveland.com%2Fobrien%2Findex.ssf%2F2015%2F04%2Findianas_rfra law protects lib.html&text=(mailto:?)subject=Indiana%27s%20RFRA%20law%20protects%20liberty%20across%20a%20vast%20array%20of%20moral%20beliefs%3A%20)

Related Stories

What Ohio Gov. John Kasich must do to stop discrimination and protect religious freedom: Mike Brickner (Opinion)

<http://www.cleveland.com/opinion/ind>

Indianapolis Star editorial urges state's legislators to make changes to 'religious freedom' law

<http://www.cleveland.com/nation/inde>

386 comments

Sign in Post comment as...

Newest | Oldest

Carol Bannon (http://connect.cleveland.com/user/carol\_bannon/index.html) 34 minutes ago
http://connect.cleveland.com/user/carol\_bannon/index.html
Google gay wedding cake at muslim bakery....Steve Crowder can't get one..they keep sending him to the Kroger store.

It is on YouTube

And yes...I do believe these store owners have a right to follow their faith. They are respectful and helpful...just not accommodating

Like Reply

blacksquirrel (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/blacksquirrel1/index.html>) 1 hour ago <http://connect.cleveland.com/user/blacksquirrel1/index.html>
Should a Catholic realtor have to show homes to a non-married heterosexual couple?

Like Reply

Carol Bannon (http://connect.cleveland.com/user/carol\_bannon/index.html) 32 minutes ago
http://connect.cleveland.com/user/carol\_bannon/index.html
Who even asks? We have bought multiple homes and no one asks...except to inquire about how much we want to spend

Like Reply

JustSayNoToReligiousKookiness (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/ReligiousKookiness/index.html>) 8 hours ago

If business owners demand the right to refuse goods or services relating to a same-sex couple's wedding ceremony or reception, they must demonstrate in court that they interview ALL potential clients using the a checklist to determine if their consciences would be upset by accepting any business from anyone and they must produce as evidence all checklists conducted during said interviews over the preceding 12 months:

Example:

Questionnaire to Determine Whether Couples Seeking to Contract for Services related to Wedding Ceremonies and Receptions Will Be Upsetting To Business Owner's Conscience:

Question 1 Is the man or woman divorced from a previous marriage? [if NO, proceed to Q2 / if YES, applicants violate my conscience, application DENIED]

Question 2 Are both man and woman pure (are they virgins)? [if YES, proceed to Q3 / if NO, applicants are immoral and full of SIN, they violate my conscience, application DENIED]

Question 3 Once married, do the man and woman plan to use artificial birth control to prevent conception? [if NO, proceed to Q4 / if YES, applicants violate my conscience, application DENIED]

Question 4 Once married, do the man and woman plan to engage in sex for (a) enjoyment only or (b) procreation only? [if (a), applicants violate my conscience, application DENIED / if (b), application accepted]

Because It's What Jesus Would Want To Know.....

Like Reply

WW (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/WeaselWatcher/index.html>) 13 hours ago
(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/WeaselWatcher/index.html>)
Should a muslim t-shirt shop owner be compelled to create a t-shirt with the image of Mohammad upon it?

3 <http://connect.cleveland.com/user/onfwtoo/index.html>

<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/dewiseman/index.html>

http://connect.cleveland.com/user/carol\_bannon/index.html Like Reply

PubliusX (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/PubliusY/index.html>) 10 hours ago
(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/PubliusY/index.html>)
<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/WeaselWatcher/index.html>

No, but whatever they do make must be available to all.

Like Reply

WW (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/WeaselWatcher/index.html>) 0 hours ago
(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/WeaselWatcher/index.html>)
<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/PubliusX/index.html>

WW
(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/WeaselWatcher/index.html>)

I want a t-shirt with ink on it like everyone else. The offense comes from the shop keeper's religious beliefs. The cake baker refused to bake a wedding cake with 2 guys on it. The offense came from her religious beliefs. Both examples are illustrative of a service denied by shop owners due to their religious considerations. Both are protected in a just and free society.

Like Reply

HausWolf (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/HausWolf/index.html>) 9 hours ago

@WW
(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/WeaselWatcher/index.html>) @PubliusX
(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/PubliusY/index.html>)

Completely wrong, no Muslim shopkeeper ever would make a T shirt with any likeness of Mohammad because he does not offer it, ever.

Like Reply

OSULAW92 14 hours ago
Kevin you are very predictable. I feel much better about my point of view when you completely disagree with it. That is the litmus test I use to know I am on the right track.

As for your three examples:

I suppose the gay baker could have a policy that they do not serve haters of gays; 'haters of gays' not being a protected class. Also, I doubt the Westboro church would go to a gay baker.

The Muslim would have to make the tabouli for a gay wedding, unless his religion stated it was against his religion to serve a gay person.

Luckily the Jewish videographer would be able to deny the KKK as the KKK is not a protected class. You are allowed to discriminate, just not against a protected class. We discriminate on a daily basis, its when we discriminate on the basis of a protected class that there is an issue.

Like Reply

pcitizen99 (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/pcitizen99/index.html>)
(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/pcitizen99/index.html>)

14 hours ago

Smly...and here I thought our constitution did these things..

Like Reply

Foggy. (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/tonsofsimple/index.html>)
(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/tonsofsimple/index.html>)
(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/pcitizen99/index.html>)

14 hours ago

If it did, the states wouldn't feel compelled to do it for themselves.

1

(http://connect.cleveland.com/user/carol\_bannon/index.html) Like Reply

jayjay (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jayjay271828/index.html>)
(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jayjay271828/index.html>)

14 hours ago

this idiot is really paid to write by the plain dealer.....geez.....that's pathetic.....

Like Reply

Livefreeor (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/Livefreeor/index.html>)
(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/Livefreeor/index.html>)

15 hours ago

For argument about the gay baker and the Westboro Baptist Church does not make any sense and has no bearing on the law whatsoever. Being gay is not a religion. So while the baker may detest the WBC and their practices, he would not be able to refuse service under the guise of religious belief. (I also just happen to think that any member of the WBC would be terrified to eat a slice of "homo cake," lest he or she catch it, but I guess you'd have to ask one of them about that...) Further, your use of the WBC is very telling here --- you clearly imply that hating members of the LGBT community is a justified religious belief. Thank goodness the law in its original form was thoroughly reputed.

Like Reply

jonfw (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>)
(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>)

15 hours ago

I think you mean "reputated".

Like Reply

Livefreeor (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/Livefreeor/index.html>)
(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/Livefreeor/index.html>)

14 hours ago

@jonfw

(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>)

oops! thanks.

Like Reply

Carol Bannon (http://connect.cleveland.com/user/carol\_bannon/index.html)
(http://connect.cleveland.com/user/carol\_bannon/index.html)

28 minutes ago

You are wrong... Google Steve Crowder gay wedding cake Muslim bakery.

And I do disagree ... THERE is a huge difference between stop n shop refusing to make a cake and a family run bakery. This law protects the mom and pop businesses from the militant "I will sue you or else " crowd looking to make the news or further their agenda.

Like Reply

L (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/dewiseman/index.html>)
(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/dewiseman/index.html>)

16 hours ago

Here we have two different groups that has long been denied them. They should be the happiest people in the world. But no, their idea of celebration is to force someone to violate their conscience and cater their party. Whether they are legally justified or not, this is to me very sick behavior.

3 (http://connect.cleveland.com/user/carol\_bannon/index.html)

(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/WeaselWatcher/index.html>)

(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>) Like Reply

jonfw (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>)
(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>)

16 hours ago

Great point. Who are these monsters who would sacrifice their own happiness to make someone else miserable?

2 (http://connect.cleveland.com/user/carol\_bannon/index.html)

(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/WeaselWatcher/index.html>) Like Reply

Carol Bannon (http://connect.cleveland.com/user/carol\_bannon/index.html)
(http://connect.cleveland.com/user/carol\_bannon/index.html)

17 hours ago

Once again an on point opinion posted that reasonably explains why protections are needed for all and not just the loudest screamers in the I Am A Victim LGBT lobby...nicely done Mr O'Brien.

1 (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/WeaselWatcher/index.html>) Like Reply

OSULAW92
Carol:

14 hours ago

Can we agree that members of the LGBT community have truly been victims for years? For a good portion of the last century Great Britain made it a crime to be homosexual and people tried many methods and 'therapies' to change their true feelings. When I was a kid homosexuals were readily ridiculed, discriminated against and tormented because of their status. That is why many 'stayed in the closet'; they were not prepared to face the potential backlash. Thankfully things have changed over the last decade or two and by getting their voice the gay community has changed the public's perception and are fairly well accepted for who they are. Now you and Kevin want to deny them their voice? I would not have expected anything less. How does it feel to be consistently on the wrong side of history?

2 <http://connect.cleveland.com/user/HausWolf/index.html>

Like Reply

latestdrew

13 hours ago

@Carol Bannon (http://connect.cleveland.com/user/carol\_bannon/index.html)

Yes Carol, it was so on point that the law that Kevin praises has already been amended. The hits keep on coming.

Like Reply

jonfw (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>)

18 hours ago

(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>)

If a devout muslim baker is asked to service a wedding between two Satanists, should he be forced?

1 http://connect.cleveland.com/user/carol\_bannon/index.html Like Reply

thirdLeg51 (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/thirdLeg51/index.html>)

18 hours ago

(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/thirdLeg51/index.html>)
@jonfw (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>)

yes

1 <http://connect.cleveland.com/user/PubliusY/index.html> Like Reply

Foggy. (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/tonsofsimple/index.html>)

18 hours ago

(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/tonsofsimple/index.html>)

@thirdLeg51

(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/thirdLeg51/index.html>) @jonfw

(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>)

" You are not, however, free to compel them to act in ways that violate their consciences."

1

<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html> Like Reply

Dr. Steve

(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/Boovich/index.html>)

16 hours ago

@Foggy.

(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/tonsofsimple/index.html>)

@thirdLeg51

(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/thirdLeg51/index.html>)

@jonfw

(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>)

Hmmm. Where does the US Constitution provide protection for "violations of conscience"?

Hint: it doesn't.

That imagined protection exists solely in the mind of KOB in his OpEd.

There's been much litigation on both sides of this issue, much of it pertaining "public accommodation" with respect to LGBT people.

I expect such litigation to continue....

Like Reply

jonfw

(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>)

16 hours ago

Hmm...where does the Constitution protect ones right to freely practice his religion?

Hint: the First Amendment.

HMMMM.

Like Reply

OSULAW92

15 hours ago

So their religion says thou shall not sell bakery to satanists?

Like Reply

Dr. Steve

<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/Belovich/index.html>

@OSULAW92 Yeah, that's the part where they can't seem to connect-the-dots. In order to prove a First Amendment argument (w.r.t. religion) you have to show where the practice of your religion was harmed or otherwise impeded by someone else's actions.

15 hours ago

That's the hard part.

I will be playing the violin tonight at a Lutheran Tennebrae service. The fact that my company sells medical informatics products and services to LBGT medical providers in no way hinders me from doing that.

My First Amendment rights remain intact.

1

<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/HausWolf/index.html> Like Reply

jonfw

<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>

Steve, If you're forced to provide service and assistance to a ceremony that violates your beliefs, then the practice of your religion has been harmed.

14 hours ago

Like Reply

Dr. Steve

<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/Belovich/index.html>

@jonfw

14 hours ago

<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>) There's some gray area there, I will agree. It's not as broad nor as simple as is frequently painted, though.

As Christ's passion and resurrection is presented tonight in many churches and through this entire weekend, it's always good to reflect on His simple message.

Love One Another.

Have a great Easter :o)

1

<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/HausWolf/index.html> Like Reply

jonfw

<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>

Their religion says they don't have to provide assistance to a ceremony that violates their beliefs.

14 hours ago

Like Reply

Dr. Steve

<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/Belovich/index.html>

@jonfw

15 hours ago

<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>) Agreed - which is NOT the same as protecting "violations of conscience".

Just pointin' that out....

Like Reply

Foggy.

<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/steveforstefor/index.html>

@Dr. Steve

14 hours ago

<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/Belovich/index.html>)

I disagree entirely. The Constitution exists not only to limit the power and reach of government, but to ensure that the individual is empowered to pursue happiness on his/her own terms without being compelled by the government to violate his/her own principles.

My morals and values are not set by you, nor are your set by me. And your right to be served cake by me ends where my right to live by my rules begins.

Especially if there are other bakers around. And assuming I'm crazy enough to turn down a paying customer.

1

<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/WeaselWatcher/index.html> Like Reply

Carol Bannon (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/CarolBannon/index.html>)

Wrong answer... 17 hours ago

Like Reply

PubliusX (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/PubliusY/index.html>) 17 hours ago
(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/PubliusY/index.html>)
@jonfw (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>)

And no, that does not mean he has to make a cake covered in bacon (although that does sound delicious) or picturing Mohammed. It just means he has to make the normal cakes he makes everyone else.

Like Reply

jonfw (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>) 17 hours ago
(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>)
Key words: has to.

Profoundly unamerican.

1

http://connect.cleveland.com/user/carol\_bannon/index.html Like Reply

PubliusX (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/PubliusX/index.html>)

@jonfw (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>) 17 hours ago

Segregation...profoundly unamerican

Like Reply

jonfw (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>) 16 hours ago

It's not segregation.

Like Reply

Park-it (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/itchycat/index.html>) 18 hours ago (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/itchycat/index.html>)

A little too late, Kevin. The legislature of Indiana decide they needed to neuter their original law.

2  (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/PubliusY/index.html>)

<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/LuluJones/index.html> Like Reply

This comment has been deleted

Marilyn French (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/LuluJones/index.html>) 18 hours ago
(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/LuluJones/index.html>)
@Badger937 (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/teddadiun/index.html>)

Good business strategy - the ChiKFEElaa crowd-sourcing funding.
PP does it better.

Like Reply

elb1999 (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/elb1999/index.html>) 18 hours ago (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/elb1999/index.html>)
@Badger937 (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/teddadiun/index.html>) They're laughing all the way to the bank

Like Reply

Marilyn French (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/LuluJones/index.html>) 18 hours ago
(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/LuluJones/index.html>)
@elb1999 (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/elb1999/index.html>) @Badger937 (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/teddadiun/index.html>)

As they should be- because discrimination is so funny and scamming the blind fathers is so easy.....

Like Reply

 Arthur Fonzarelli (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/afonza/index.html>) 18 hours ago
@Marilyn French (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/LuluJones/index.html>) @elb1999 (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/elb1999/index.html>) @Badger937 (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/teddadiun/index.html>) You seem to be slurring those with sincere religious beliefs that are unlike yours. Yes, bigotry comes in many forms.

3  (<http://connect.user/WRHenley/index.html>)  (http://connect.cleveland.com/user/carol\_bannon/index.html)  (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>) Like Reply

 Daffy_Duck (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/Fartbrains3/index.html>) 19 hours ago
(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/Fartbrains3/index.html>) the natural right to practice one's religion freely well, I don't know what a 'natural right' is, but it certainly is a Guaranteed Right under the Constitution

3  (http://connect.cleveland.com/user/carol\_bannon/index.html)  (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/jonfwtoo/index.html>)  (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/KenTankerus/index.html>) Like Reply

 SSite4SinkingCivility (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/SSite4SinkingCivility/index.html>) 19 hours ago
@Daffy_Duck (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/Fartbrains3/index.html>)
Does the Constitution legalize bigotry?

Like Reply

 Foggy (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/tonsofsimple/index.html>) 18 hours ago
(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/tonsofsimple/index.html>) @SSite4SinkingCivility (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/SSite4SinkingCivility/index.html>) @Daffy_Duck (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/Fartbrains3/index.html>)

Is bigotry illegal?

1  (http://connect.cleveland.com/user/carol\_bannon/index.html) Like Reply

 WRH Bill (<http://connect.user/WRHenley/index.html>) 14 hours ago
(<http://connect.user/WRHenley/index.html>) As a matter of fact, yes. At least it legalizes the right to hold and express opinions despite the fact that YOU consider them bigotry. (You have the same right even though I consider some of YOUR opinions to be bigoted. See how that works?)

Like Reply

 Cody_Thomas_929 (http://connect.cleveland.com/user/cody\_thomas/index.html) 20 hours ago (http://connect.cleveland.com/user/cody\_thomas/index.html) They see in Indiana's law permission for businesses to discriminate against homosexuals. And, yes, that could happen.

But it's unlikely to happen, and if it happened the free market would be quick and eager to remedy it."

The free market was quick and eager to remedy it. That's why it happened. Social conservatives want to blame the far left and the media. Instead they should talk to their free-market conservative peers and realize the almighty dollar was the ultimate force in this situation.

1  (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/HausWolf/index.html>) Like Reply

 Marilyn French (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/LuluJones/index.html>) 19 hours ago
(<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/LuluJones/index.html>) @Cody_Thomas_929 (http://connect.cleveland.com/user/cody\_thomas/index.html)

And they also blame US for making THEM look that fools and bigots.

They reaped what they intentionally sowed in IN.

Like Reply

 Arthur Fonzarelli (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/afonza/index.html>) 18 hours ago
@Marilyn French (<http://connect.cleveland.com/user/LuluJones/index.html>) @Cody_Thomas_929 (http://connect.cleveland.com/user/cody\_thomas/index.html) Please provide an example of this.

Like Reply

Show More Comments

